GUEST LECTURE ON CONSTITUTIONALISM

The Department of Journalism & Mass Communication along with the First Principle Collective organized an awareness session on constitution and constitutionalism on Tuesday i.e., 30/08/22. The session was undertaken by Mr. Abhishek Juneja, Founder member of First Principles Collective (FPC). In his addressal, he talked about the historicity, objective, and relevance of the constitution for running a nation-state.

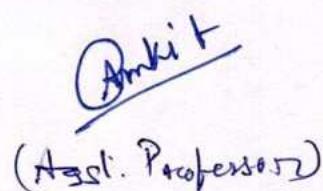

Before the beginning of the session Dr. Ramesh Chandra Pathak, Head of the Journalism Department enlightened the gathering about the historical presence of doctrines that governed the societies of the past. Students and faculty members of all departments attended the session. B.R. Ambedkar placed a strong emphasis on the requirement that for the Constitution to continue to be a living, breathing constitution, people must come to believe in the principles outlined in the Preamble.

For a democracy like India to first survive and then flourish, it is extremely valuable to use "constitutional morality" as a benchmark for evaluating social and political changes and Tula's Institute focuses on all round development of students and to make them better citizen of this country.

The institute sensitizes students about their fundamental rights, duties & values and enables them to evaluate things critically and constitutional educational process leads to right thinking and noble behaviour.

Guest Lecture

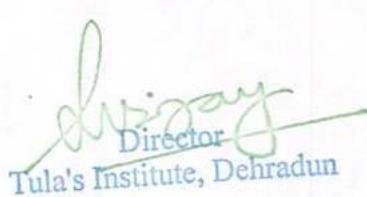

"Introduction to College Life & Importance of Communication in Career Making"

The Department of Journalism and Mass Communication organized a guest lecture on 29 September 2022 at Tula's Institute, Dehradun. Dr. Harsh Dobhal senior journalist and academician were invited as a guest speaker for the event. The event started with the felicitation of the guest by the Dean of Management & Agriculture (Dr. Ranit Kishore), followed by a welcoming note from Dr. RC Pathak (Head of Department, JMC).

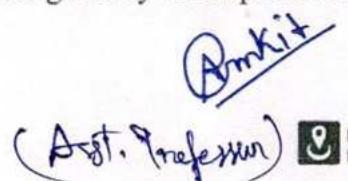

The idea behind this guest lecture was to motivate the newly enrolled students and make them understand the "Importance of Communication in Career Making". In his address, Dr. Dobhal told students about the difference between school and college life and how they can learn more outside the classroom and understand society in a better way. He also emphasized developing critical thinking through debates & discussions and told students about multiple opportunities today as they do not have to deal with limited resources.

In his lecture, he also informs students that social media is a powerful tool medium with a great positive and negative impact on their career making and should be used very carefully. Dr. Dobhal said that mentors can only enlighten their paths but for all-around growth and development they have to take the first step forward in this initiative.

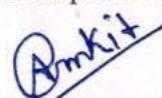

At last in his closing speech he acknowledged the good educational infrastructure and various facilities provided by the institution and how they can properly utilize the resources. At last Dr. Harsh Dobhal answered queries of students regarding careers, etc. The event concluded with a memento presentation to the honourable guest by the departmental head.

Guest Speaker: Ms Yutika Gupta

Summary: Internal Complaint Committee (ICC) has manifested a guest lecture on Female Hygiene on December 22nd, 2022. Educating girls about menstruation facts, physiologic implications, significance and proper menstrual hygiene practices is the need of the hour. It is also required to break their inhibitions about traditional beliefs, misconceptions and restrictions. If menstrual health and hygiene (MHH) is well managed from the start, it has a surprisingly high potential to contribute to increasing female empowerment at a critical stage of a girls' life.

Dr. Divyanshu
Director
Tula's Institute, Dehradun

Ms Yutika being the guest speaker of the event helped female audience knowing that maintaining good hygiene during menstruation is of pivotal importance, especially in terms of increased vulnerability of reproductive tract infections. She further added that, it is imperative to recognise the importance of menstrual health and hygiene in women health.

Outcome

- Girl students, female staff and the female labour class
- They have been made aware about female hygiene management and activities.
- Training and habit formation to use sanitary napkins and maintain hygiene during periods.
- Adequate menstrual hygiene management does not only involve access to basic sanitation facilities but also menstrual absorbents.
- Every girl and women should be known about various material absorbents used along with their pros and cons. Efforts should be made to increase access to hygiene options.
- Feminine hygiene is essential and needs to be maintained both at home and at workplaces.

Resource Person: Mr Emmanuel Gabriel

Objective:

This event is organized to generate effective critical thinking into primary issues in the given topic.

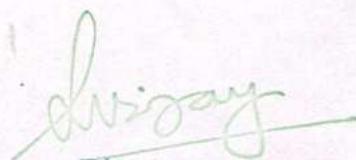

Summary: Tulas institute organized “Chai Pe Charcha” on 12 January 2023, a platform for students where they can have a formal discourse on a particular topic, including arguments which are put forward for often opposing viewpoints.

Around 55+ students actively participated in the event. The students were divided into many teams. The first round was group discussion where the students were given a particular topic and kept their views for or against the topic. The second round was extempore in that the participants had to speak on the topic which was given to them on the moment.

This event helped the students to build their proficiency and confidence to speak up and keep their views in front of other people. It also helped the students in developing their critical thinking skills that are essential in their daily life, thus, made the event a successful one.

Outcome

- Debate students are taught to synthesize wide bodies of complex information, and to exercise creativity and implement different ways of knowing.
- Debate participation promotes problem solving and innovative thinking, and helps students to build links between words and ideas that make concepts more meaningful.

EVENT: SESSION OF GROUP DISCUSSION

DATE: 19th April, 2023

Organized by: Yamini Goyal Department of Applied Science

OBJECTIVE: To provide a platform for students to showcase their communication skills by participating in group discussion .

Topics were:

- 1- Can Artificial Intelligence replace Human Intelligence?
- 2- Is India Ready for Electric Vehicles?

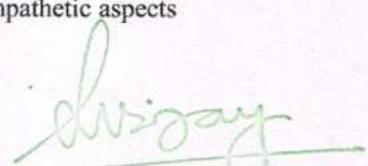

Discussion Summary:

1. Can Artificial Intelligence Replace Human Intelligence?

The discussion began with an exploration of the capabilities of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and its potential to replace human intelligence in various domains. Participants deliberated on the advancements in AI technology, including machine learning and natural language processing, which have enabled machines to perform tasks that were once exclusive to human cognition.

Arguments in favor of AI replacing human intelligence centered around its efficiency, lack of bias, and ability to process vast amounts of data at incredible speeds. Examples were cited from various industries where AI has outperformed humans in tasks such as data analysis, medical diagnosis, and even creative endeavors like art and music composition.

However, participants also expressed concerns regarding the ethical implications of AI surpassing human intelligence. They discussed the importance of maintaining human oversight and control over AI systems to prevent potential misuse and ensure accountability. Additionally, the emotional and empathetic aspects of human intelligence were highlighted as areas where AI currently falls short.

Overall, the consensus reached was that while AI has the potential to augment and enhance human intelligence, complete replacement remains unlikely due to the unique qualities inherent in human cognition.

2. Is India Ready for Electric Vehicles?

The discussion shifted towards the readiness of India for the widespread adoption of electric vehicles (EVs). Participants examined various factors influencing the feasibility of EVs in the Indian context, including infrastructure, affordability, and government policies.

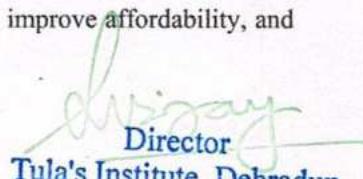

Infrastructure emerged as a significant concern, with participants noting the need for a robust charging network to support the mass adoption of EVs. Challenges such as limited charging stations, especially in rural areas, and the time required for recharging were highlighted as potential barriers.

Affordability was another key consideration, with participants emphasizing the importance of making EVs accessible to the average Indian consumer. They discussed initiatives such as subsidies, tax incentives, and incentivizing domestic manufacturing to reduce the cost of EVs and promote adoption.

Government policies were deemed crucial in shaping the future of EVs in India. Participants commended recent efforts by the government to promote electric mobility through schemes like FAME India (Faster Adoption and Manufacturing of Electric Vehicles), but also called for continued support and investment to address existing challenges.

While there was optimism about India's potential to embrace electric vehicles, participants acknowledged that significant efforts are still required to overcome infrastructure limitations, improve affordability, and create an enabling regulatory environment.

Participants engaged in a thoughtful exchange of ideas, weighing the potential benefits and challenges associated with each topic. While acknowledging the transformative potential of AI and the promising future of electric mobility in India, they emphasized the need for careful consideration of ethical implications and concerted efforts to address existing barriers. Overall, the discussion fostered a deeper understanding of these complex issues and highlighted the importance of ongoing dialogue and collaboration in navigating the opportunities and challenges presented by technological advancements.

The Session of Group Discussion on April 19th, 2023 started at 10:30 am .. The session reached the end at 12:20.
